Good Grief, Groundhog

By Jean Perry

Punxsutawney Phil. You really let us down this time.

I'm crying foul. You've heard of DeflateGate. I call this GroundhogGate.

Clearly, Phil, you have sold out on us. How else could you explain seeing your shadow on a snowy day beneath overcast skies? I think it's time we started looking toward other eligible groundhogs for the satisfaction that seems to elude us with you.

I'm looking toward Staten Island Chuck, bearer of better news this year, predicting an early spring from the Staten Island Zoo. And Chuck has been accurate with his predictions for the past five years straight. How often have you been right, Phil?

And then there's Buckeye Chuck in Marion, Ohio. He plays by the rules. No shadow, no six weeks more of winter.

Jimmy the Groundhog from Sun Prairie, Wisconsin emerged as one of my personal favorites this year, defying his handlers' suggestion that there would be six more weeks of winter. Instead, he whispered into Mayor Jonathan Freund's ear that spring would come early just before biting him. The mayor's office issued a statement that only the mayor can translate Jimmy's prediction, so the prediction stands. Jimmy said spring is on its way.

General Beauregard Lee in Lilburn, Atlanta is looking pretty good to me, too, right now. Can you say, "hash tag: early spring?"

We just endured two back-to-back winter storms here in Tri-Town. There was barely enough time in between storms to enjoy a little sledding and snowpeople making. The Groundhog Day storm that canceled school in the Old Rochester Regional School District, although it not bring as much snow as predicted, managed to make a mess before it all flash froze Monday evening.

Don't get us wrong, Phil, we love us a little winter. But the prospect of an early spring is what gets us through the second half of it. It is what we dream about as we hurl the last shovelfuls of the three tons of heavy snow from our driveways, after the novelty of the first five minutes of the activity has worn off.

We look to you to deliver us from the icy clutches of winter's relentless grasp. Unclinch your fists, winter. Phil – you are outnumbered. No #SixMoreWeeksofWinter. We prefer to go with #EarlySpring.

Fading Shadows

This Mattapoisett Life

By Marilou Newell

There was very little conversation about who he was, where he came from, or how and why he ended up living with my grandparents. He, along with every single person who had firsthand knowledge of his backstory, has passed away. Yet, for all of my young life, while he and they were still living, this person – the incomplete John Harris – was like a fleeting shadow.

On those extremely rare occasions when Dad would recount some childhood memory, John Harris was not mentioned. What I'm about to share is a combination of historical crumbs not yet turned to dust as I lose my grip on memory, and the historical fiction I've written of him over the years. I suppose the truth would be vastly more interesting, but in its absence the following will have to do.

My paternal grandmother, Annette Wilson, nicknamed Nettie, and her people hailed from New Jersey. It was said her father was a doctor. It was said that she had been educated, could read, write, and do sums. It was said she became a teacher. I know for a fact she played the piano because I saw her do so once six decades ago.

Nettie was married twice. Her first married name was Harris. That marriage had presumably been childless. Upon the death of Mr. Harris, she came into a little property, a small house, and a tiny general store on Route 6A in Barnstable.

But then there is this question. Who was John Harris? If her marriage to Mr. Harris was childless, then where did John Harris come from?

Nettie met and married my grandfather, Nehemiah Newell. She had two sons by him, my father, Brayton, and my uncle, Nehemiah (whose nickname was the rather odd sounding Pungo).

An elder paternal cousin told me a story. She said that when Nettie returned from visiting a friend in Connecticut, she came back with a toddler. That toddler was John. I recall asking her how the toddler had come into her life. I mean, a human being just doesn't fabricate itself, now does it? The cousin said that a friend of Nettie's had too many children and the family couldn't support another. Being childless and, presumably with the financial means to take care of a child, Nettie 'did her friend a favor' and had taken the child to raise and care for as if her own flesh and blood. If that story is true, then John was not a relative by birth but a sort of adopted son.

My Father referred to 'Johnny' not so much as a half-brother, but as a person in the household who was simply there. He never called him brother as he did his beloved Pungo. Dad would say that Johnny was 'smart,' which equated to very high praise from him. Dad's third-grade education was always a source of shame for him. Though he could read and do sums, he could not write more than his name, and he seemed to believe Johnny of superior intelligence.

In the very thin narrative of my father's childhood days, this Johnny never factored in. Dad spoke glowingly of his grandmother, a woman I believe to have been his mother's mother, another educated woman. It was she who taught him how to read. It was she who spent long lamp-lit hours in little more than a hovel heated by a wood burning stove; whose love and kindness he would reflect upon later in life. Not a word of an older brother named John.

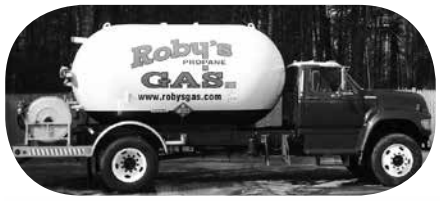

Yet it was this person who bore my grandmother's first married name – Harris.

I know that my father had rather frequent contact with John when they were adults. John became a banker. At what level in the banking world is not known; but suffice it to say, it was a position that my father would leverage.

Dad spent the lion's share of his life self-employed. His limited education and total inability to accept the confines of reporting to another person made it necessary that he call his own shots. His talents lent themselves to fixing things, and as such, he became well known as the TV-man. But his ability to actually become a solvent businessman was frail at best. There were lean times.

The ebb and flow of his shop meant that, on occasion, money had to be borrowed if it was to be had at all. Before things got too desperate, Dad would take out personal loans from banks or lending institutions using whatever collateral he had cobbled together, oftentimes the house we lived in. A public records search of the homes he owned show numerous loans granted and paid, many from the bank where John Harris was employed.

One can assume that such dealings required Dad and John to speak to one another. One can also assume there was nothing resembling familial sentiments, but rather a business transaction shadowed by some vague shared history.

I never met John. At least I don't think so. Shortly before the death of my Uncle Pungo, with whom I established a warm long-distance relationship, we discussed many things; but he never, ever mentioned John. Maybe I didn't ask.

Pungo told me that the best we can ever hope for in terms of immortality is two generations; three, if we are lucky. After that, there is the nothingness. If that's the case, I hope John has lots of family somewhere. I'm likely to be the only person in my family thinking about him at all in spite of having virtually nothing to share. That thought gets me to wondering … Perhaps when the Harris family thinks about John, they speculate about my family, my father, and my uncle – or maybe not. All shadows fade.

Town Administrator Michael McCue responded to residents' concerns with a public service announcement to be aired on cable access to answer questions that go beyond what was sent to households in the form of an informational letter.

McCue stressed that inquiries should be directed to ABC Disposal and not to Town Hall. ABC Disposal will work with the Town, he said, to alleviate any further problems once the new system begins.

"The Town will, on a case-by-case basis," said McCue, "consider the provision of an additional trash cart at no charge given the resident's particular circumstance." Again, McCue emphasized that inquiries should be made directly to ABC Disposal, who will inform the Town of the situation and allow the Town to decide if an individual resident should receive an additional cart free of charge or a larger 95-gallon cart in lieu of two 65-gallon carts.

"Regardless of this," said McCue, "residents may purchase an additional 65-gallon trash cart at the cost of $65 each by contacting ABC directly."

McCue said residents who live on roads that are not accessible to the ABC trucks should continue, as they do now, to place the trash and recyclables collectively at the end of the road. The Town website also has a link to a website where accessories can be purchased that are helpful in moving the new larger bins.

Residents concerned that they may occasionally have a larger item or extra trash that will not fit into the bin may, said McCue, place the extra trash alongside the trash cart "in extreme circumstances." McCue added, though, that the trash must be bagged. "All trash must be bagged," he emphasized.

Residents concerned about extra recyclables may use their old bins alongside the new 95-gallon recycling carts, leaving the recyclables loose and un-bagged.

"If capacity of a bin becomes an ongoing issue, an extra recycling bin (cart) will be provided for free by ABC," said McCue. "Please call them directly." McCue continued, "Those that wish to downsize a recycling cart from 95 gallons to 65 gallons may do so by calling ABC."

"I hope this answers the majority of questions that still remain," said McCue. "However, if your concerns have not been addressed, please call ABC at 508-999-2619 and we will work as best as we can to tackle them."

McCue said after the filming of the PSA that he hopes residents will allow the system to begin and be firmly put into place before deciding what is or is not going to work for them.

As for fines for not following the regulations, McCue said that ABC is not authorized to issue fines directly, and the Town has not yet established a fee system at this time, nor is it in a rush to do so.

"We're not going to send the rubbish police out to check on them," said McCue.

Mattapoisett Addresses NFIP Issue with Survey

By Jean Perry

Mattapoisett Town Administrator Michael Gagne on January 30 introduced a new survey for Mattapoisett residents to take online to gather public input as the Town works with a citizen's group to suggest revisions of the National Flood Insurance Law to Congress.

Mainly, said Gagne, the biggest concern residents have over the National Flood Insurance Program is the high cost of the premiums.

The Biggert-Waters Flood Insurance Act of 2012 passed by Congress extended the NFIP another five years until 2017 before higher premiums would come into effect, while calling for reform.

In addition to the high rates of flood insurance, said Gagne, citizens are also concerned about the methodology used in determining subjectability to FEMA-determined flood plains – specifically, height, fetch, and velocity.

"Input is sought on what residents' thoughts are regarding [what] current federal subsidy of flood insurance should look like," said Gagne in an email. How should the insurance address historical high frequency of damage claims, and how does the flood insurance address long-term enrollees in the plan with no real loss experience? Gagne wants to know what Mattapoisett residents think about these issues.

Gagne also poses the question, should flood insurance operate in a similar fashion as current home insurance in a free market environment? Gagne said this online survey is residents' chance to note their concerns, make comments, and offer suggestions as the Town works with the Massachusetts Coastal Coalition to make revisions to the law.

You can fill out the online survey by visiting the town website at www.mattapoisett.net, and scrolling down to "Town News" and clicking on the link to the survey.

Rochester Receives Grant for COA Health Program

Rochester Board of Selectmen

By Jean Perry

Thanks to a grant, the Rochester Council on Aging will soon offer people age 55 and up the chance to take a 12-week health and wellness program free of charge.

"The goal of this program is to empower older adults to make and maintain small but impactful changes in health behaviors," Town Administrator Michael McCue read from a prepared description of the offering during the January 29 meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen.

Topics will include physical fitness,

"This is a wonderful opportunity for older adults to participate in, and reap the benefits of, this cutting-edge wellness program," the description reads.

Details of the program's start date will be announced in the near future.

Also during the meeting, selectmen briefly discussed changes the Planning Board and the Bylaw Review Subcommittee propose to make to the Zoning Bylaws table of contents, with mixed emotions.

"Changing the table of contents doesn't fix the problem," said Selectman Naida Parker.

McCue stated, "I don't disagree with that."

The subcommittee sought quotes from a company to look over the Town's bylaws and make suggestions on how to make them more cohesive and user-friendly to residents and town officials alike. McCue stressed that the point of employing the company was to make suggestions to the formatting, and not suggest changes to the bylaws themselves.

Town Meeting would have to approve any changes to the bylaws, including the table of contents.

Parker commented on how important it is to rectify the "leap-frogging" that the zoning and regular bylaws appear to do within the bylaw book, going from zoning bylaw to general bylaw and then back to zoning bylaw.

In other matters, McCue announced that new Governor Charlie Baker has released the remaining Chapter 90 funds to the Town of Rochester, totaling $150,000. The funds were already allocated, but former Governor Deval Patrick froze the funds temporarily instead of releasing them to all towns and cities in the state.

The next meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen is scheduled for February 9 at 6:30 pm at the Rochester Town Hall.

Marion Board of Selectmen

The Town of Marion was given four more days past the allotted comment period to respond to the Environmental Protection Agency's draft NPDES permit, which threatens to shut down the Town's three sewage holding lagoons located at the end of Benson Brook Road. with Town Administrator Paul Dawson on a reply to defend the Town's position that the data the EPA used to determine the wastewater facility's impact on the environment was flawed. Dawson also says that the new maximum nitrogen output levels are impossible, even with the latest technology available to mitigate nitrogen pollution.

Dawson says the EPA used data from a study conducted by the Buzzards Bay Coalition, which he referred to in the past as scientifically unsound. That study alleges that the Marion wastewater lagoons are one of the largest single sources of nitrogen pollution into Sippican Harbor, leeching nitrogen into the groundwater and into the surrounding watershed.

If the lagoons were ordered to shut down by the EPA, it could cost the Town somewhere around $15 million for a new wastewater treatment plant.

CDM Smith was initially on the agenda for the February 3 meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen, but had to be removed and placed on the agenda of a February 5 special meeting of the selectmen due to the impact of the past two storms. Representatives from CDM, Dawson said, had been held up due to hazardous driving weather, snow travel bans, and resulting meeting cancelations with the Town.

As per the request of Dawson, the EPA granted

ANTIFREEZE POISONING

My dog was in the garage with me as I was changing the antifreeze in my car. He sniffed the old antifreeze and was going to drink it. I stopped him. Would it make him sick?

Antifreeze (Ethylene glycol) has a sweet smell that is, unfortunately, attractive to dogs. It can cause kidney failure if the dog is not treated within 4-6 hours after drinking this poison. If you see your dog or cat drinking antifreeze, take him to your veterinarian immediately.

the four-day extension to the comment period because of the weather, pushing it back to Friday, February 6.

The weather also halted a meeting Dawson had with environmental law firm Hall & Associates based in Washington, D.C. Attorney John Hall was scheduled to meet with Dawson while visiting the Boston area, but the meeting was canceled because of the blizzard.

Dawson emphasized that the law firm has not yet been hired to formally represent the Town; rather, the Town is seeking initial advice from the experienced law firm that is representing other towns in the Taunton area.

In other matters, selectmen approved the timeline Dawson proposed for soliciting and hiring a new fire chief to replace Fire Chief Thomas Joyce, who announced last month that he will be retiring on July 1.

Advertising for the position will begin March 5, providing a deadline date for resume submissions of April 10.

"With an eye towards making a selection of the new fire chief at the May 19 (selectmen's) meeting," added Dawson.

But is that enough time, Selectman Jody Dickerson wondered.

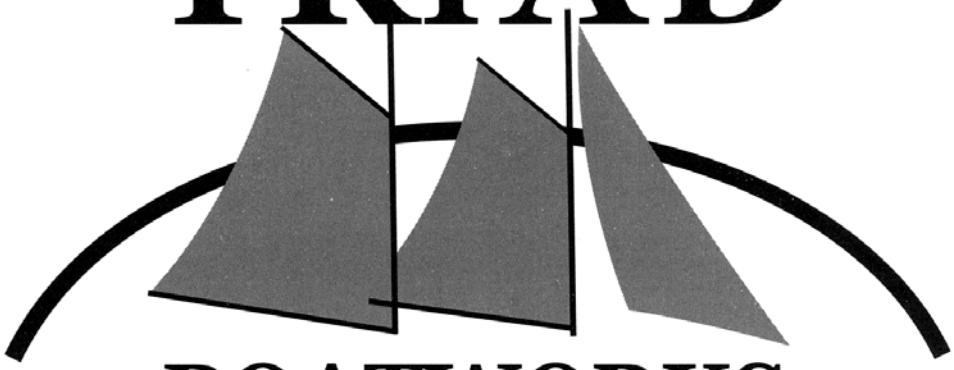

"I'm just afraid if there's somebody selected," said Dickerson, "are they going to have enough time or notice to leave (their current employer)?"

Dawson said the schedule gives the new candidate a total of six weeks from the date of notification of selection to July 1, the first day on the job.

Also during the meeting, the board voted to partner with the Marion Affordable Housing Trust in seeking Community Preservation funding to purchase additional affordable housing units from the Bay Watch project.

Selectmen Chairman Jonathan Henry suggested the board make the presentation to the Marion Community Preservation Commission when the time comes to apply for the funding, which Dawson speculated would be "more warmly received" by the CPC.

Wellspring Farm to Remove Fallen Trees

Rochester Conservation Commission

By Marilou Newell

James and Holly Vogel of 42 Hiller Road came before the Rochester Conservation Commission on February 3 to discuss the need to remove storm damaged trees and fallen logs on property that provides mental and physical health services to children of all ages.

Wellspring Farm Learning Center provides what James Vogel called "experiential therapy" in a natural farm setting for persons with a variety of health challenges. Vogel said that the trees in question are having a negative impact on the manner in which the property may currently be used for various therapies, such as hiking through the woods, which can be especially difficult for persons with mobility issues.

Vogel said that removing the trees is a safety concern and that only damaged and fallen trees would be removed. He required a Request for Determination of Applicability from the commission, as some of the trees in question are within the 100-foot buffer zone and 25-foot no touch zone.

"I know they are very environmentally sensitive and will only take those trees that need to be taken," said Conservation Agent Laurell Farinon. The commission rendered a negative determination, allowing the work to proceed without the requirement of filing a Notice of Intent.

Also of significance during the meeting was a letter that Farinon said the Town received from FEMA advising them of its final determination on revised Flood Insurance Rate Maps.

The only additional flood area FEMA identified was a small parcel near the Freetown line situated next to the New Bedford water treatment plant.

Farinon said the Town needed to adopt the maps to avoid residents losing their flood insurance or the Town losing out on FEMA funding in the future. She will continue to work with the town administrator and town counsel to draft an article for Town Meeting.

Farinon also reminded the commission members that they need to complete conflict-of-interest law training, an online program, before the March 6 deadline.

The next meeting of the Rochester Conservation Commission is scheduled for February 17 at 7:00 pm in the Rochester Town Hall meeting room.

New Anatomy Teacher Brings Unique Experience

ORR Update

By Patrick Briand

It's been quite a year in the Old Rochester Regional High School Science Department, where a few retirements have led to new teachers being hired, and new classes being taught by familiar faces.

After longtime Anatomy teacher Mary Cabral retired following the Thanksgiving break, her existing Anatomy classes have been taken over by Colleen Foster, who also teaches Health, and Jeremy Kennefick, a new addition to the ORR staff. So far, Mr. Kennefick is enjoying his time at ORR, and he recently shared his thoughts regarding his new position.

When it came to applying for the vacant teaching position, Mr. Kennefick's status as a local gave him the edge.

"I live in the Tri-Town, so I'd been keeping my eye on the district for a while," he explained. "And when the position came up, I applied."

Mr. Kennefick has a background teaching science at several different schools in the Southcoast area, at many different levels of learning.

"I've taught at UMass Dartmouth, New Bedford Public Schools, and Acushnet Public Schools," he said.

Here at ORRHS, he is mainly teaching Anatomy, although he also teaches a Forensic Science course, a popular science elective among juniors and seniors.

Kennefick had nothing but praise for ORR's student body. He also noted that the kids here are much different from those at other schools where he has taught.

"The students here are polite and ask lots of good questions. It's tough to compare to New Bedford," said Kennefick. "There are plenty of good kids there, but here the kids are more self-sufficient and college-focused."

He also gave a rundown on a couple of different objectives that he hopes to accomplish during his time at ORR.

"[I hope to contribute] my knowledge in science and my background, become a member of the staff, get to know the students, and also get involved with any extracurricular activities if possible," he stated.

Bringing his love for science, teaching experience, and local background to the school, Mr. Kennefick is set to make a big impact on ORR's science students for as long as he teaches at the high school.

Healthy Relationships

Tabor Academy News

By Julia O'Rourke

Speeches and videos called attention to the themes of healthy and unhealthy relationships last week at Tabor Academy. Although awareness is beginning throughout the community, the issues associated with unhealthy relationships have been on Lauren Millette's mind for a while.

Millette – a dormparent, teacher, and freshman class dean – began highlighting the issues associated with unhealthy relationships last year.

"It's been on my mind for a really long time," says Millette, but she thought about it even more after attending a gender project conference over the summer.

Millette believes that in a healthy relationship, "You should feel supported, as though you can be yourself, and there should be trust and mutual respect." Most importantly, "A relationship should only enhance how you feel on your own, not complicate it…. The most important relationship you can have is with yourself."

Last week, Malcolm Astley came to speak to the Tabor community about the issue. Astley, who lost his teenage daughter, Lauren, to breakup violence in 2011, has started a memorial fund that seeks to promote efforts to stop such violence. The speech was relevant in that their family is from Wayland, MA and some Tabor students experienced the tragic incident first hand or had heard about it a few years ago.

The speech was very emotional for students and faculty alike. Peer counselors, who are helping Millette promote awareness, were available throughout the day after the speech to listen to others who had strong emotional reactions of grief and sadness.

Dr. Mehegan, a school counselor, also gave a speech this month regarding what an unhealthy relationship is. Millette saw his speech as a perfect opportunity to start a project that she had been working on to start conversation before Astley's speech.

Millette created a "Healthy Relationships" video that highlights some positive examples of relationships within the Tabor community. The pairs, which included a number of relationships featured siblings, friends, parents and children, husbands and wives, and many others. The video features the pairs together with whiteboards that state what each appreciates about the other.

Millette enjoyed the process of creating the video, saying, "There were so many positives." She was happy that the community can "celebrate what we appreciate in each other," and the project provided the perfect medium to do so.

Some of the pairs that volunteered for the videos found the process emotional as they reflected on what they appreciated in their partner.

The video was shown at the weekly all-school meeting a few days before Astley's talk and received a positive reaction from the community.

Going forward, Millette plans to keep up the momentum of this awareness. Students have approached her with their own ideas, which are in the process of being implemented. Furthermore, students can sign a banner showing their support that reads, "Courage to Care, Courage to Stand Up," which is a concept that Astley highlighted throughout his presentation.

Astley also believes that self-defense is an important skill for everyone to have, so Christopher McEnroe, an English teacher, will be teaching a class that is open to the community next month.

According to Millette, a future goal is the continuation of healthy discussions about relationships – whether they are friendships, teammates, romantic partners, or of any kind – in order to continue providing support to each other.

Girls' Swim Team Makes History

ORR Sports Update

By Michael Kassabian

Many sporting events at Old Rochester Regional High School had to be postponed or canceled this week due to the heavy snowstorm that shut down the area. Regardless, many athletes had impressive performances later in the week. Here is a look at the eighth week of scheduled games for ORR winter athletics.

Boys' Basketball: In their lone game of the week, the Bulldogs pulled out an impressive 70-42 win over conference rival Fairhaven, thanks largely in part to the performances of Noah Fernandes and Ryan Beatty. Fernandes continued his excellent debut season by scoring 22 points and recording seven assists, while senior Beatty scored 18 points. The Bulldogs got out to an early 25-10 lead after the first quarter and never looked back, staying ahead of the Blue Devils by at least 20 points for the remainder of the game. The win puts the boys' record at 12-1 overall, with a perfect 12-0 conference record.

Girls' Basketball: The Lady Bulldogs also had a big win over Fairhaven this week, defeating the Lady Blue Devils 40-18 to advance their record to 8-6 overall. The girls jumped out to a 23-6 lead after the first half and held on for the final two quarters to secure the win. Sophie Church and Olivia Labbe led ORR offensively, recording 11 and 8 points, respectively. Senior captains Ashley Pacheco and Morgan Browning also provided key defense, shutting down any offensive attempts by Fairhaven. This was a redeeming victory for the girls, as they lost to Fairhaven earlier this season by one point.

Boys' and Girls' Swimming: This week, the ORR swim teams competed in the SCC Championship Meet, where the girls' team made history. Though the boys placed fourth overall and the girls placed third out of four teams, junior Cate Feldkamp became the first individual qualifier for the sectional and state meets in the history of the ORR swim program, qualifying in the 200-freestyle. Feldkamp also helped to lead the girls' 200-freestyle relay, comprised of herself, Chloe Riley, Avery Nugent, and Julianne Mariner, to a sectional and state qualifying time of 1:52. This is the first time in the three-year history of the program that anyone has qualified for states, which is a great example of the progressing strength of ORR swim.

Boys' Track: This week, ORR's freshmen and sophomores had a chance to shine at the annual Janiak Freshmen/Sophomore Meet held at GNB Voc-Tech. ORR had three winning performances on the day, with sophomore Mike Morris winning the 300-meter (42 seconds), sophomore Eli Spevack winning the 55-meter hurdles (9.02 seconds), and the 4x400 team of Morris, Spevack, Mason DaSilva, and Will Hopkins taking home the gold in the lone relay in the meet.

Girls' Track: The girls' team also had several impressive performances by their underclassmen at the Janiak Freshmen/Sophomore Meet. Leading the way was freshman Carly Demanche, who won the 600-meters in a quick 1:54.9. Demanche was also a leg of the winning 4x400 team, along with Rachel Demmer, Brooke Santos, and Maddie Scheub. On the day, ORR boys and girls won five of the combined twenty races, which is a good indicator of the level of the talent the teams will have in the next few years. Both track teams return to action at the SCC Championship Meet held on February 7 at GNB Voc-Tech.

Can we please have a moment of silence,
For the victims involved in this cities violence,
Everyone is dying, I can't take it,
Seems like we are all not going to make it,
Put the guns down,
Listen to the sound,
To the sound of people crying,
Because their families are dying,
So much hatred everywhere,
Too many people dying every year,
Let's stop this madness once and for all,
Cause I hate to see innocent bodies fall,
So let's make up and become friends,
So people's lives don't come to an end!

Dear Marion Planning Board:

As a child that has lived in Marion for ten out of my ten years, I know better than anyone how special and astonishing our town really is. CVS is a nationwide, household name, big box store. You know that Marion is not a fit for this. So please don't let this box in our beautiful, unique town. I believe CVS should not be allowed at the gateway to Marion because there is already too much traffic, their presence will lead to small businesses going bankrupt, and it sets a bad example for American taxpayers. Most residents and visitors do not want it, and because it destroys the beauty of the Captain Hadley House, let's solve this issue as a community.

Do you want to be backed up trying to get in to the village of Marion? Well, I don't want to be. There is already too much traffic at the intersection of the Captain Hadley House and Cumberland Farms. Sadly, this corner has the record for the most car crashes in town. CVS is estimating that 500 cars will go in and out of their parking lot daily. Can you guess what this number of cars will make happen? Lets see, there's going to be even more accidents.

Another reason why I believe CVS should not be in Marion is because their presence will lead to small businesses going out of business. Our town is filled with many local businesses that help us daily. The business that will be affected the most is the Marion General Store. This store sells all of your essentials, toiletries, meat, vegetables, cooking and baking ingredients, snacks, candy, pet needs, medicine and much more. The General Store already competes against the local franchise, Cumberland Farms. If you open another big box store in our town, what you're basically saying is that I don't care if one of the most important things in our community is destroyed. This is the center of our town, the younger generation's meeting spot. Don't let it crash and burn.

CVS is planning to move their corporation offshore in order to avoid paying U.S. income tax. So this kind of company can sell candy, trinkets, and Gatorade

(in addition to prescription drugs) at huge profit levels that justify enormous land leases, put general stores out of business, and we allow them to leave the United States tax rolls. Can you believe that we would let a company that is trying to avoid the U.S. laws in our town? It sets a bad example for youngsters.

The Captain Hadley House is a very important part of Marion's history. It might just seem like an office building that's taking up space, but it's not. As Margie Baldwin stated at our town meeting last October, "We used to have four historic buildings at each corner of our town. But now, sadly, we only have one left. The Captain Hadley House." Seeing this building every time you come into our town, you are reminded of the beautiful history of Marion.

Finally, the CVS company should not be in our unique village because many people have already said NO to having this pharmacy come to our town. A petition done by Tinker and Bill Saltonstall shows that 2,191 residents and visitors to Marion voted NO towards CVS. I personally did a poll through my 5th grade class at Sippican Elementary and the majority of the children stated clearly that they don't want a big box store in the town they are growing up in. Isn't your job to do the right thing for the whole entire community? Listen to the children; we are the people that will be here in the long run.

To save this town from turning into a city, we need to stop CVS. This box store should not be allowed at their gateway to Marion or anywhere in Marion. As a ten year old, I have learned to respect the process of the planning board as I watched you deal with Mark Investments at both meetings. There is already too much traffic. I'm not lying, traffic records prove it. Local businesses will go bankrupt. Many residents and visitors to our little community say NO to CVS. Petitions through all age groups speak loud and clear. This destroys the beauty of the Captain Hadley House. As I said in the beginning, I am a child that has lived here for a decade … my whole entire life. I've ridden my bike to Jack Cheney's General Store. I've been driven by the Captain Hadley House, I've enjoyed getting greeted by the man who owns the General Store every day, and I know that the owner of the whole entire CVS company does not stand outside and greet us when we come in. I've enjoyed driving by the historic building. I've personally loved going past the Captain Hadley House, but never really enjoyed going into the CVS in Fairhaven or Wareham. I don't want anymore car crashes. So let's make a stop to this riot and keep intact the beauty of our town.

Thank you,
Tasha Sudofsky

War was going to be easy, but when after a decade of work, her submission to the Paris Salon is rejected, Mary is tempted to heed her father's pleading to return to Philadelphia to find a husband. Then one evening a friend introduces her to Edgar Degas, and her life changes forever. So begins the defining period of her life and the most tempestuous of relationships. We will discuss this novel of Belle Epoque Paris on Thursday, February 26 at 6:30 pm. Books are available at the desk or bring your own copy.

For their February book, "Just the Facts," the nonfiction book discussion group, will be reading Dark Tide: The Great Boston Molasses Flood of 1919 by Stephen Puleo. There had been warnings. The local handyman who worked at the tank had heard its rumblings and saw the molasses that leaked through its seams and streamed down its sides. But this is not what the tank's owning company needed or wanted to hear. Then came January 15, 1919, when the fifty-foot-tall tank containing 2.3 million gallons of molasses collapsed on Boston's waterfront, sending its contents out in a 15-foot high wave that traveled at 35 miles per hour. Who was at fault? Would anyone be found guilty of killing 21 people, not to mention the scores of animals and the over 100 people injured. We will discuss this book on Thursday, February 19 at 6:30 pm. Copies are available at the desk.

Plumb Library is pleased to present a new item for circulation: snowshoes. We have two pairs of snowshoes for children (up to 150 lbs). Many thanks to the Friends for purchasing them for us.

Gateway Youth Hockey

Mites C: The Gateway Mite C team came back strong this week, beating Nantucket for the first time this season 20-7. Gateway came out of the gate flying, scoring off the opening face-off just 30 seconds into the game. The team got back on track after a rare letdown last weekend. The Mites played like a team passing and back-checking the whole game with several beautiful passing plays resulting in goals. Jarrod Frates led the team with six goals and two assists. Brayden Cannon, Tommy Clavell and Ben Hebble each had hat tricks and two assists. The other scorers were Bree Killion, Paxton Jones, Brayden Hathon and Pat Tripp. Charlie Carroll played stellar in net with 30 saves, making a great kick save off a break away to start the game. The Mites played their best game by far and moved up in the standings with the win. The Mite C team is back in action next Saturday versus YD at 1:50 pm in Falmouth.

Squirts: Gateway Squirts provided quite the nail bitter Saturday versus Lower Cape Black, tying it up in the dying seconds of the game to secure a 3-3 tie. Matthew Quinlan put Gateway on the board early, assisted by Ty David Ribeiro and Juni Suarez. L.C.B. matched the goal late in the first, then made Gateway trail by the score of 2-1. In the second, Gateway played with heart and soul. Suarez found the net, giving Gateway a chance to get ahead but L.C.B. stepped up and got another after several key saves by goal tender Ryker King. In the third, Gateway was hit with yet another point from L.C.B., making them push to keep their undefeated record intact. With 30 seconds left, the coach pulled the goalie to get an extra player, and Suarez, making a split second decision, took the shot with 11.3 seconds that tied the game in a dramatic fashion. With the crowd cheering and the team giving their all, they settled for the 3-3 tie. Next week, Squirts play Franklin.

Pee Wees: The Gateway Youth Hockey Pee Wee Team dropped a game to the Canal Sharks by a score of 4-1 on Sunday. The Sharks came out strong and played hard for three periods of hockey to overcome a traditionally tough Gateway team. The Sharks took an early two-goal lead in the first period. Gateway would get on the board in the second period to make it a one-goal game after a goal by Chris Cogan, assisted by Jack Martins, but the Canal team pressed hard and scored their third goal with 30 seconds remaining in the second and then sealed the deal with one more in the third.

Bantams: The Gateway Youth Hockey Bantams easily defeated the Plymouth Bantam B2 team by a score of 8-0. It was the second straight shutout for goalies Zachary Pateakos and Steven Strachan. Jake DeMoranville registered his first career hat trick. Gateway goal scorers also included Zachary Lovendale, Robert Ramsay, Jackson St. Don, Jared Westgate, and Jameson Woodward. Mike Ripley and Matt Youlden each had a pair of assists, while Nick Snow and Ty Lovendale also added helpers. Gateway continued to move the puck and play strong fundamental hockey, despite Plymouth's attempts to draw players into the penalty box. While Gateway finished the game without a single penalty, the same could not be said for Plymouth. Player ejections continued to mar the winless Plymouth team's score-sheet, as they finished the game with two, including a game misconduct.

Middle School 1: The Middle School 1 team had their six-game win streak come to an end with a 5-0 loss to the North Devils. It was the last team to beat the Jr. Vikings before their win streak. The team started off flat and just couldn't find their way against the Devils.

Mattapoisett Woman's Club

The Mattapoisett Woman's Club will hold their February meeting on Thursday, February 19 at noon in Reynard Hall at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church, 27 Church Street. Our February program will feature a talk about the roseate tern by Kathy Parsons, Ph.D., Director, Coastal Waterbird Program Mass Audubon.

The Coastal Waterbird Program monitors and protects 180 nesting sites on the Massachusetts coastline including Piping Plovers, Massachusetts Least Terns, and Massachusetts American Oystercatchers. In addition, the program is instrumental in the protection of Roseate Terns during the months after breeding when the birds are preparing for migration. Today, the Coastal Waterbird Program advocates for the protection of the entire coastal ecosystem and serves as a model for integrated coastal resource management.

Please join us at noon for a light lunch and an introduction to interesting facts about our local coastal

Movies to Move You

"Movies to Move You" is a free community event on Sunday, February 8 presented by The Center for Educational & Cultural Opportunities (CECO) at Buzzards Play Productions (BPP), located at 3065 Cranberry Highway in East Wareham, across from Benny's. The movies being shown are all based on true stories all are inspiring. The Jackie Robinson story, as told in '42,' will be shown at 12:30pm. The Pact, a truly inspiring story of three teens growing up in a crime- and drug- infested community of Newark, Jersey who overcome tremendous adversity to become doctors follows at 3:15 pm. And last, Men of Honor, the Carl Breshear story about an African American Navy SEAL and the adversity he had to overcome to succeed, will be shown at 5:15 pm (Rated R). Join us for one or all three movies.

The impetus for starting the Center was taking five Wareham youth to Boston to see Lion King. Trenton Jenkins and his wife helped chaperone the group and he said, "The play was life changing. I never knew the play had so much to offer. It was so exciting to see my first live theater event."

Sonya Rose, who has three daughters – one at Howard University, another at Upper Cape, and the oldest in retail – said, "I think the Center is a great idea.

On the Road Again

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Exposed.* Featuring Mat Fraser and Rose Wood. Directed by Beth B. Running time: 76 minutes. No MPAA rating, but probably for adults only.

The enduringly popular old-school nudie performer Bettie Page was a devout Christian who reportedly had no problem disrobing for strange men. Her reasoning was that God had made her body to please men, and so there was nothing wrong with using her body for its God-given purpose. I thought of that while watching Exposed, the longtime underground filmmaker Beth B's tribute to the women, men and unclassifiables who have affably hijacked New York burlesque and bent it to their avant-garde political will. Bettie Page might have felt kinship with some of the performers profiled here, if only because they, like her, know no shame or guilt in nude self-expression. There's an innocence, a sense of riotous play, in even the most transgressive and in-your-face shows here.

Before anything else, though, I feel the need to object to the audiences for the performances. In a weirdly moving sequence, an entertainer called Bambi the Mermaid comes out bedecked in lobster claws and shells, cracking open and eating bits of "herself" while looking near tears. As someone who pities the lobsters in the tank at the supermarket, and whose philosophy on eating them can best be encapsulated by David Foster Wallace's famous essay "Consider the Lobster," I felt saddened and disturbed by the performance, but the downtown hipsters in the club chortled hiply at it. I felt like saying "You're annoying; shut up. She's doing something beyond comedy here. Respect."

Indeed, most of the performers do move beyond comedy, and the audiences do sometimes rise to it as it deserves. There's a good amount of gender-bending, from the likes of transgressive drag queen Rose Wood (whose breast augmentation surgery is sort of the movie's climax) or the "boy-lesque" artist Tigger! or the genetically female World Famous "Bob," who spent some years thinking she was a gay man trapped in a woman's body (shades of Margaret Cho) before learning to accept what she was born with. Such self-acceptance is a key motif here, as many of the women are full-figured and one of the male performers, Mat Fraser of American Horror Story: Freak Show, was born with what he calls "flippers" instead of arms after his mother took Thalidomide while pregnant with him.

Most of the people on view here hail from what Rose Wood terms "the Island of Misfit Toys," psychologically if not physically. Women like Bunny Love and Dirty Martini have taken a form of entertainment long considered sexist and degrading (or, at best, goofy and archaic) and refurbished it to speak wordlessly but eloquently in a feminist language. It's hard to argue that these non-mainstream artists aren't doing exactly what they want to do, how they want to do it. The moves, the tassels, the striptease, all the elements are there, but the performers use burlesque as a found object, or found medium, to get their points across in a sensual, attention-grabbing manner.

I would also like to take this opportunity to nod gladly at Beth B, who was instrumental in the "No Wave" filmmaking movement of the late '70s and who has worked in documentaries, some for TV, over the last decade or so. Though I can't say she ever really left her artistic New York roots, the candy-colored, sex-positive Exposed feels like both a homecoming for her and a fine way to bring newcomers into her fold. (She turns sixty this year. I feel old.) To put it in crass marketing terms, fans of John Waters and of John Cameron Mitchell's Hedwig and Shortbus should give this quick, often touching documentary a spin, and then maybe look up her early work like Vortex. This is not someone who will be offered a Marvel movie, or would accept if offered, and is to be cherished as such.

Tabor Academy Hosts Ceramics Exhibition

Two years ago, Tabor Academy art department faculty member Kevin Arnfield (Ceramics, Art History) received a Braitmayer Fellowship from Tabor to research, design and construct a 50-cubic foot wood-fired kiln. Mr. Arnfield's project, much more complicated and involved than he anticipated, took nearly two years to complete and ended up involving a range of people from the Tabor community and beyond. Tabor art faculty, students, trustees, alumni, and people from the local community came together, either in the work of constructing and preparing the kiln or in the work of filling the kiln with ceramics to be fired. The inaugural firing of the kiln in October 2014 was a great success and produced very promising results.

During the first two weeks of February, the gallery in the Braitmayer Art Center will feature an exhibition entitled Wood Fire: Kiln, Art & Community – Ceramics from a Pre-Industrial Technology curated by Mr. Arnfield. The exhibition will address the history and aesthetics particular to wood-fired ceramics and the design and construction of his kiln. It will also address the value of labor and community work inherent in the wood firing process. A selection of ceramics from the 300+ pieces fired in inaugural kiln firing will be on view side by side with a number of important pieces of wood fired art pottery from local collections.

The public is invited to the opening reception of this exhibition on February 6 in the Braitmayer Art Center at Tabor Academy from 6:30 to 7:30 pm.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You need to be certain that all the right conditions are in place before you take that first step. It can't hurt to listen to good advice from those who have your best interests at heart.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Be careful not to get involved in other people's disputes unless you know the facts behind the disagreements. That's the best way to be assured of making wise and honest decisions.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You still need to be careful about how you're going to spend those energy reserves you finally got around to restoring. Best advice: Avoid overdoing it. Let things take their course.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your aspect continues to favor travel -- alone or with that special person. So if you've been putting off making those getaway plans, it's still a good time to get started on them.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Those so-called golden opportunities that continue to dazzle the Lion still need to be carefully checked out. Be suspicious about anything that looks like the "perfect" prospect.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Changes at the workplace could make it more difficult to do things the way you prefer. But the wise Virgo who shows some flexibility could find it paying off in a big way.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might want to check out the explanation you were given for a sudden shift in your duties. There's a possibility that you haven't been told all the facts that you deserve to know.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Having confidence in your abilities is important, especially when you could be facing a new challenge, whether it's in the workplace or in a personal relationship. Good luck.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A new work-related opportunity might not be all that it seems. Before making any decisions, you might want to check with others who have had some experience in that area.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A situation involving someone close could benefit from your timely intervention. Avoid being judgmental. There'll be plenty of time later for those "little talks" you like to have.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Travel could be a surprise element in that new project. Be prepared for other previously undisclosed aspects that also might come to light as you proceed with the work.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Try to balance your work-related responsibilities with the time you're spending on your recently revived social life. An old friend might be planning to return after a long absence.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your sensitivity makes you aware of the needs of others. Have you considered a career as a counselor?

Classic Film Friday

On Friday, February 6 at 7:00 pm, the public is invited to the Marion Music Hall for the month's Classic Film Friday Presentation: It Happened One Night. The event is co-sponsored by the Sippican Historical Society and the Marion Council on Aging, and is offered to the public free of charge. Directed (and co-written) by Frank Capra, the 1934 film is considered one of the greatest romantic comedies in film history. Not only was it a box office sleeper hit, but it was a critical success, as well, garnering five Academy Award nominations and winning in all five categories: Best Picture, Best Actor (Clark Gable), Best Actress (Claudette Colbert), Best Director (Frank Capra), and Best Adaptation (Robert Riskin).

In a reversal of the classic Cinderella story, the film's heiress heroine (Claudette Colbert) rejects her wealthy lifestyle and falls in company – and love – with a gruff, out-of-work reporter (Clark Gable). Class conflicts, socio-economic differences, and battles of wit are played out along a madcap road trip that contains some of the most memorable film scenes ever created. Running time for It Happened One Night is 105 minutes, and the film will be followed by a brief talk-back session by David Pierce. The Marion Music Hall is located at 164 Front Street, and ample parking is available across the street at Island Wharf. For more information, contact the SHS at 508-748-1116.

Friends In Service Helping has been in operation in Mattapoisett since 1969. We provide rides to medical appointments for elderly residents who cannot drive anymore. We service Mattapoisett residents with transportation from their homes to Wareham, Marion, Fairhaven, New Bedford, and Dartmouth, as well as right here in Mattapoisett. Last year alone, we transported 301 residents!

Our town does not have public transportation. Our elderly residents are counting on FISH to get them to their medical appointments. We need more volunteer callers and drivers. We always work around your schedule when it is convenient for you! To find out more about your opportunity to be a FISH volunteer, please call FISH Coordinator Jacquie McGraw at 508-758-9278.

Best Seat in the House? Every Seat!

The Music Hall Advisory Committee is pleased to announce two very significant donations – an audio system donated by an anonymous donor, as well as 150 comfortable, new chairs from a dual donation by an anonymous donor and the Sippican Historical Society. The Committee is deeply grateful for these wonderful contributions that will greatly enhance the comfort and enjoyment of audiences for the many civic and cultural activities held at the Music Hall.

For information on various programs held at the Music Hall by organizations such as the Sippican Historical Society, Elizabeth Taber Library and Marion Council on Aging, as well as other local venues, you can now consult the Town of Marion's Events calendar at http://www.marionma.gov/Pages/MarionMA_Eventscal/.

Increased use of the Music Hall has led to more awareness of the maintenance issues it faces, and the Committee is very pleased to be working actively with the town's new Facilities Manager, Shaun Cormier, to ensure the long-term 'health' of this historic building. We look forward to honoring the vision of Elizabeth Taber when she built the Music Hall in 1891, as well as the generosity of another benefactress whose large donation in 1995 provided funds for a major renovation to the building as well as an endowment.

The focus now is on stabilizing the Hall's foundation, increasing handicap access, upgrading

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark
In the January 29, 2015 issue the Aardvark was on page 22!
